Winter Series - Racing again this Saturday

The sun will be out, the breeze will be perfect, and if you aren't planning to be at Evans Bay this Saturday you should really change your plans!

The forecast is looking like an moderate northerly easing which will produce great sailing conditions, so get your crew organised, pull out those thermals, woolly socks and woolly hats so that we can get some more great racing happening in the bay!

The race documents are on the website.

And if for some reason you haven't seen the results from Race 1... They are available here for you all to relive your moment of glory!

I promise it won't be this cold!!!

All Blacks v Wales Test

We have organised for the mighty All Blacks to play yet another Test Match against the Welsh. Is there a better way to finish off a great day of sailing than having a couple of refreshing beverages while watching the AB's play our national game?

Edward Chambers

I'm 27, male, been sailing on and off but mostly off) for about 12 years. Did an optimist course when I was 15 and have rented the odd dingy every few years since then. Really keen to get into racing now I'm permanently based in Wellington. So I'm looking to get back onto a boat and recap my skills so I can enter a racing skills course next spring or summer.

Keen to help out or crew wherever possible.

I have been sailing for over 40 years. Mostly cruising and "light" racing. My most recent boat was a J 105 and before that a J 80. Love the asymmetrical spinnaker ! I am 62 years old and so not up for foredeck or "sewer", but can trim, grind a winch or be rail meat.

Ashley Peryer

I am from the United States and will be coming to NZ to visit my husbands family July 3-24 and would love to do some sailing while I am in Wellington. Racing, afternoon cruise whatever anyone may be up for or need an extra set of hands on. I race locally and have done several offshore races to Jamaica and Mexico. Would love to just fetch beer or trim sails or hike out whatever maybe needed. Just don't want to come to the "land of sailboats" and not get out on the water on one! Look forward to meeting some of you!

Alice Rogan

I have recently moved to Wellington from Auckland. I have completed level 2 dinghy sailing and level 2 keelboat. I have taken part in 2 races in Auckland as crew but still have a lot to learn. I would love the opportunity to get involved in racing or cruising in Wellington. Willing to work hard and learn on the go.
